

Put your products in front of our audience!

Quantum Optical now provides optical vendors and wholesale laboratories a cost-effective way to promote your products and services to the people that use them. Introducing sponsorship opportunities at each of our shows!

CE conference sponsorship now available!

These highly successful and well-attended events are marketed through trade publications, e-mail advertising and direct mailing of conference literature. We are an approved CE provider for most state boards, COPE, JCAHPO and the ABO/NCLE. As a sponsor you benefit from personal interaction with an audience full of potential buyers, while supporting professional education. We work with the nation's leading ophthalmic instructors who present innovative and valuable educational tools to a targeted audience.

Hurry, sponsorships are limited to 4 per event!

As a sponsor, you receive:

A portion of our program devoted to your company's products or services. Assuming you have CE courses, your representative will be invited to present 1 – 3 hours of material. If not, we will provide a speaker that will deliver product-orientated courses on your behalf.

A draped tabletop display, which may be staffed by your local sales, lab or distributor representative(s).

Signage with your logo prominently displayed at the entrance to lecture rooms.

Raffle of one (1) $50.00 AMEX gift certificate on your behalf

Special purchase option for scholarship vouchers which allows you to send your customers to the conference for FREE (Your cost - 50% off the full-day registration fee).

Insertion of one piece of marketing literature into the attendee registration packet.

Database of attendee names in Excel format.

Logo recognition and hyperlinks on our website, www.quantumoptical.com

Complimentary enrollment in our Online CE Affiliate program

Sponsorship fee:

Only $1000.00 per event
